122 E. HOUSTON ST.
SAN ANTONIO, TX

---

- 31,191 RSF
- The Savoy is composed of three separate structures that were combined into one as the Savoy Hotel in 1912. Designed by the famous San Antonio architect, Alfred Giles, with whimsical elements of the design include heavy limestone blocks carved with acanthus leaves and dragon-like creatures. The upper floors have been redeveloped into creative office space and the street level is available for retail tenants who value historic charm.
